

ARLINGTON HONORS ITS WINNING TEAM

The greatest athletic gathering in the history of the Arlington Heights high school to date is the school's history was the story of the football banquet tendered the team at the high school Tuesday night. Nearly one hundred and fifty pupils, teachers, board members and guests turned out to honor the victorious 1928 team, a team which finished second in the Northwest high school conference and turned in the best record of any Arlington football team.

The big auditorium of the school was transformed for the evening into a huge banquet hall and the long tables were tastefully decorated with flowers and tall candles, which furnished a pretty holiday setting for the occasion. Supt. Brown acting as toastmaster delivered the address of welcome and in this welcome he departed from the usual set speech and welcomed each group individually as well as the entire gathering collectively. He told the team, the scrubs, the pupils, the board members, the coaches, the ladies and the press just how welcome they were and his happy and pertinent comparisons were timely and well received. The entire throng did complete justice to the splendid banquet which was served by some of the girls of the high school assisted and directed by the lady teachers of the institution. After the ample repast had helped to get everyone acquainted and in good humor the toasts were given as called for by the toastmaster. First came the toast to the team which was given in a few well chosen words by Dorothy Kopplin, Capt. Steve Brodthorn responded for the team and thanked the assemblage for the honors shown the team and the support accorded it during the season just closed.

Mildred Brockmeyer gave an appropriate toast to the hard working and long suffering scrubs, and her toast was responded to in an appreciative manner by Howard Prosser, a member of the scrub squad.

Herbert Weinrich gave a toast to the coaches in which he took a look into the future and gave a reading from page 9993 or something, of a future "Who's Who." In this glimpse of the far beyond he depicted Coach Grosse as turning out championship teams at Indiana and Coach Cressey as answering the pleading of Chicago and devoting his talents toward the building of a winning team at that institution. Coach Grosse in his response told of his appreciation for the loyalty and the spirit shown by the boys in their willingness to work and learn and in their determination to have a winning team. He thanked the public for its support of the team and closed with a promise of bleachers from which to see future game and a better field on which to play.

Coach Cressey in his half of the response to the toast to the coaches told some of the things which football teaches and what those teachings mean in after life. He told the boys that in after years after many social occasions had been forgotten they would still remember incidents of this game or that game or some incident of the dressing room. He pointed out that the play, the sweat and the mud of the football field was a great thing to teach loyalty, purpose, good fellowship and team work.

T. C. Hart, sport writer, of the Cook County Herald spoke a few words of appreciation of the spirit of team work and cooperation on the squad, team work on the team, between the coaches and between coaches and team.

Toastmaster Brown then commented upon the freedom from injuries during the past season saying that with a few minor exceptions the team had come through with little damage. But Mr. Brown said, there had been one casualty, he couldn't understand how it happened nor how a cheer leader could get himself so twisted up as to break an arm but the fact remained that Clarence McKaig the Arlington cheer leader had sustained such an injury and in proof of the fact he introduced the peppy Mr. McKaig, who proceeded to read an original football poem which was so good that it went over with the audience like a drop kick from the 30 yard line.

In closing Mr. Brown again paid tribute to the hard work of the ladies and girls who were serving the banquet and making possible that fine evening for the team and just to show those workers that they were appreciated cheerleader McKaig with his one whole arm working like a piston got out on the floor and lead the crowd in a loud and enthusiastic "Yea Rah Cooks!" yell.

This closed the formal part of the evening's entertainment, the chairs and tables were quickly disposed of, an orchestra struck up enticing strains and the gathering finished the evening with dancing. It was a great occasion for the Arlington school and the honored team. The various speakers paid high compliment to the team and the spirit of football. The scrubs weren't forgotten either and came in for their just share of praise for the work they had done in helping to build a team.

Football is a comparatively new sport at Arlington. Football dinners are also an innovation but with the winning team of 1928

Third Village Well
Drillers Down To
Rock At 161 Feet

Completion of the village well upon the water tower site has been delayed owing to a break in tools, and after several days "fishing" the broken part was recovered and the work will be rushed to completion. The well is down to 161 feet with a probable of 40 feet more to go. Indications of the test well are a good flow of water will be obtained.

Well Drilling Takes Patience
The life of a well driller is not a bed of roses and it takes a lot of patience some times to secure water, especially when tools break in the hole. Wayman & Wayman are down to 700 feet in a well for the Sisters of Nazareth on River road. A well at the cement works at Des Plaines is down 400 feet. Levi says it may take patience, but it is a lot of satisfaction when success is finally obtained.

Saturday Will Be Moving Day For New
Blase Bldg. Tenants

Four of the flats in the new Blase building upon the Northwest highway will be occupied by their new tenants Saturday night. Four other flats have also been rented. Among them are two new comers to the village, J. C. Zuffelt, assistant engineer of Conner, Older & Quinlan, is one of the new residents, although he is more or less acquainted with Arlington Heights having been engaged in engineering work for his firm. The other new resident is F. R. Petterson, who is employed by the Arlington Seating Co., who will move in later. Clyde C. Young, of Chas. P. Gray Co., Carl Miltzer, who was recently married and the Misses Fonne are among those who will call this place home after Saturday. Chas. Wangen has rented one flat, also Gustaf Ladis, who is opening a restaurant in the building. There remain four flats unrented.

Annual Red Cross
Call Continues Until
Thanksgiving Day

With the Red Cross Twelfth Annual Roll Call still under way, to continue until Thanksgiving Day, an appeal for more memberships was broadcast by Mrs. Beardsley, chairman in this district. "In response the first week of the campaign, which started Armistice Day," she said, "was good, but we must do even better during the remaining time of our campaign. Great as has been the response, we are still a long way from the goal we have set for this year. We need the help of every citizen of this district."

Vagabonds Give
Palatine And Heights
A Wide Berth

There are few vagabonds around Palatine and Arlington Heights these days. There is a reason. Palatine has a village hall that needs scrubbing rather frequently and Arlington Heights has a rock pile until the vagabonds completed their job last week. The memory of that rock pile must still be fresh in the memories of the hobos, as the bobs are not stopping off at Arlington Heights any more.

Palatine has adopted the practice of fining all tramps taken into custody and allowing them to work out their fines. A scrub pail and brush answers the purpose very nicely. At Arlington Heights a newly graded village park around the new pumping station on the Northwest highway bears evidence of the labor of unwilling hands. With the completion of the new village hall, the hobo hotel will have all the latest conveniences but whether there will be many guests, time will only tell.

Celebrate Leather
Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Dieber entertained relatives Sunday in honor of their leather anniversary. We suppose there will be a few readers who will call the Herald on the phone, asking how many years of married life until the participants to a leather anniversary. Do not do it because the editor does not know. Anyway the crowd at Dieber's was a good time, and are glad that their host and hostess did not wait until they were eligible for a crystal wedding.

Officiate At Opening
Of New Gymnasium

N. J. Puffer, director of Education of Division one and a former basketball coach, himself, will have the honor of officiating at the first basketball game to be played in Palatine's new gymnasium next Wednesday. He has also been retained in a similar capacity for a considerable number of other games.

and the spirit of the 1928 football dinner to look back to it's a safe bet that those dinners will become an annual fixture and that Arlington will continue to honor its teams in victory and defeat.

BIG AIRPORT
IN NORTHERN
COOK COUNTY

The Pal-Waukee airport is destined to become not alone the greatest airport in the north suburbs of Chicago, but also one of the best equipped of the privately owned ports in this part of the country. The recent acquisition of the port by a company of Lake Forest men, resulting in its incorporation means that a large amount of money will be expended to place the Pal-Waukee airport among the best in the Chicago district.

The final incorporation papers were received two weeks ago and the air port at the corner of Palatine road and Milwaukee avenue will hereafter be known as "Pal-Waukee Air Port, Incorporated." Mr. O. B. Jones a prominent Lake Forest man who is much interested in aeronautics is president. Mr. Jones has an office at 1116 Marquette building. He is a flying enthusiast who is in a position where he can gratify his wishes along that line.

The vice-president is J. L. Moos, also of Lake Forest who is in much the same position as Mr. Jones. Duncan Hodges, of the same city is the manager of the port. Of the capital stock of $100,000, fifty thousand dollars has been issued. Thirty thousand dollars is to be spent in improving the field which at present consists of forty acres. Preparations are in progress for draining the field and construction of tarvia aprons around the larger hangar, which is also to be heated.

The new company recently added to their equipment a six passenger Stinson-Detroit monoplane, which will be used for charter. It has already been used to transport passengers to college football games. The airport is being operated strictly as a business proposition. Its hangar houses the ships of many private owners from the north shore, there being twenty planes there now with four additional ones expected within the coming month.

There is a growing demand for instruction work, sight seeing trips and charity work. At present this is the only field in operation on the north shore. With the perfection of planes, aeromantics is becoming something more than just a rich man's sport. There is a growing field for mechanics and pilots and a great many are finding lucrative employment. Travel by air is also lowering in price. The six-passenger Detroit at the Pal-Waukee port, with a full passenger list of five only costs 10c a mile for each one.

This airport should be considered as one of the industries of northern Cook county and as belonging to each of the several towns. Mr. Hodges states that he welcomes visitors and will be glad to confer with any who is interested in flying. The planes of the airport are at the service of the general public, especially in emergencies or when a cross country journey of some distance is necessary.

Woman's Club
Met Wednesday

The Woman's Club met Wednesday, Nov. 21 in the home of Mrs. J. E. Pfingsten south State Road.

After the usual routine of business the Household Budget was most suggestively well presented by Mrs. Wilbur E. Fribley, chairman of the State Home department. Mrs. Fribley told of her illustration or basis a family of five with a three thousand dollar income. She made her budget with a certain per cent for housing, 25 per cent food, 25 per cent clothing, 15 per cent and 10 per cent for incidentals. The savings account and emergency expenditures must come out of the remaining 25 per cent. This budget can only be maintained by the most careful and intelligent spending. She gave some good illustrations on practical training of children in spending and saving. Mrs. Fribley's talk was one of the most practical, helpful and sensible talks given before the club in a long time. No foisting of any commercial interests or advertising new utilities, just a plain common sense address, such as we all need and appreciate.

The club chorus gave two numbers much enjoyed. The members were requested to sell tickets for a musical entertainment to be given in the home of Mrs. F. H. Sachs, early in December for the benefit of music committee.

Jellies were brought to be sent to the soldiers and to the girls' home at Park Ridge, as soon as all donations are in. The refreshments were served by the committee in charge, assisted by Mrs. C. P. Draper in place of her daughter who was absent. It was of a most welcome sort, consisting of coffee and pumpkin pie. About 40 members and guests enjoyed the interesting address and meeting with Mrs. Pfingsten.

Mrs. Dorothy Schering
Celebrates 83 Birthday

Mrs. Dorothy Schering who makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bolte celebrated her 83rd birthday this week. The occasion was the nature of a family reunion. Mrs. Schering is very active for her age and had a delightful time. There is no one in the family who is as ready for an auto ride as is Grandma.

NEW FIRE TRUCK IS ACCEPTED

The Arlington Heights village board met Monday evening and considered many routine matters of minor importance. The most important matters before them were the acceptance of the new fire truck and authorization for payment, and the installation of thirty foot pavement on Ridge avenue, in place of 24 ft. pavement. The change in width was made at the request of the high school board, who felt that parking space was necessary.

Roll call showed all members present except trustee Klehm. Following the approval of the minutes, the street committee reported the need of repairs upon the culverts on the south side, especially the one on Highland. The committee also reported work they had done in repairing the Euclid street pavement by filling in with crushed. The entire matter was left in the hands of the street committee for action as it thought best.

In response to the request of business men in the vicinity of Vail and Campbell street for an overhanging street light, the committee was given authority to have light placed.

The finance committee reported bills and payroll amounting to $7,670.60, which includes $6,500 for the price of the new truck.

There was some discussion in regard to meters. It appears that there are a few houses in which outside contractor connected with the mains without the meter. The committee will remedy these at once. Water was ordered shut off in all cases of delinquent water bills. The committee was given authority to have meters repaired or replaced, ordering new ones, if necessary.

Petition for permission of flat building erection, signed by adjoining property owners was presented and referred to board of appeals.

Mr. Burns presented a subdivision plat of a block between Ridge and Walnut, which the board accepted contingent upon the insertion of the correct name for Ridge avenue.

Ordinances were passed for rezoning of south State road on both sides of the street, north of Grove street and on the west side of the street, south of Grove street.

Motion was passed that the telephone company be requested to move poles on Euclid street, adjoining the Schoenbeck and Pfingsten places.

Achievement Meetings
Are Being Held Now
Mr. H. J. Byrd, director of education of Division two reports that the achievement meetings of his division were never so successful as this year. Every school is holding "double headers" many evenings for Mr. Byrd and the entertainers.

Two districts held such meetings Monday evening at both of which Dr. Winslow was the speaker. In District 66, Mrs. Raven, as teacher, a very fine program was given. District 80, with Mrs. Opal Ross, as principal was the second school to hold a program that evening. There was large attendance at both meetings and Dr. Winslow spoke at each place. Many teachers and school patrons from neighboring districts were present. They were very fortunate to have the opportunity to hear this foremost educator.

Tuesday evening, an achievement meeting was held in Division 23, Miss Grayce Timmerman, teacher. The audience had the pleasure of meeting Ole Olson face to face. When Mr. Byrd called for Ole, who had promised to be present, it was feared for a time that Ole had forgotten to come, but when O. G. Barrett, the farm adviser, went outside the school house to see what had become of him, Ole appeared in his Swede makeup and he had the audience in laughter from the time he entered the door until he left. Mrs. Frances McBride gave a chalk talk that was much enjoyed.

Achievement meetings were held Thursday evening in the Hills district, district 24. Miss Nell Jacobs, teacher and district 22, on Milwaukee avenue, where Mrs. Tena Allison is the teacher.

Meetings will be held Friday evening in Dist. 56, Mrs. Opal Blum, teacher, and in district 59, Miss Ruth Howell, principal.

Next Monday, Nov. 28 a similar meeting will be held in district 58, Miss McGrath, teacher. The program starts at 8 p. m. and the general public is invited. The following evening the meetings will be held in division 20, Miss Elizabeth Bray, teacher, and Miss Bertha Kenth, teacher.

Arlington Heights
Oldest Resident Talks
About Olden Days

Joe Hinz, 80 years old, who came to Arlington Heights 78 years ago, thinks that he is the oldest resident in the village. However, the Herald will be glad to receive any information that any others may have in that regard. Mr. Hinz is very spry for his age and has an excellent memory. It was in the office of Wayman & Wayman where the editor of the Herald found him Wednesday afternoon, talking over old times with Mr. Wayman, of whom he was a neighbor many years.

Joe came to Arlington Heights from Germany, with his parents when only two years old and has lived here ever since, except a few years that he spent traveling about the country learning the music trade. Mr. Hinz, when he was a young man, believed that he could acquire efficiency in his trade to a greater degree if he worked at his trade in all parts of the country. This he did and claims to have worked on construction in almost every large city except New York. He still believes that the young man of today should not stick too much to his trade. He thinks if a traveling man will not hurt a boy and will serve to round out his education.

The Shepard Paint Store will be in its new quarters in the Landmeier building before the first of December. The same is true of Dave Prosser's barber shop.

The Arlington Sweet Shop will move one door west of its present location, early next week.

If any of the shoppers need a directory as to who and where to find these business men, just step in the Herald office.

Village Collector
Preparing Big Xmas
Gifts For Tax Payers

E. H. Bolte, village collector of Arlington Heights admits that he is a man without a heart, for who else would place in the mails several thousand special assessment bills ten days before Christmas. The local banks will attempt to soften the blow by mailing a few days earlier the Christmas savings checks, but there are a whole lot of homes that will be receiving the special assessment bills but no checks from Christmas savings funds.

E. H. Bolte has a Santa Claus smile on, anyway. His work is much easier this year because he does not have to stop the job of fitting shoes and he has a commodious office that speeds up the work.

There are 75 special assessments that are in process of collection. The oldest one that is now being collected is No. 21 which was levied in 1923 and upon which the sixth installment is now being collected. The last special assessment is No. 96. Mr. Bolte is sending out a new form of bill this year that not alone specifies the amount that is due at the present time, but also how much has previously been paid and how much remains to be paid.

Mr. Bolte is of the opinion that such a bill will save him writing several hundred letters to now property owners and answering a thousand questions of those who call at the office.

Arlington Heights
New Fire Truck
Is Now In Service

The next time fire breaks out in your home it will be the new 500 gallon Seagrave number which will answer your request for aid. The new engine was officially placed in service Tuesday morning. Practically all of the firemen, have been instructed as how to handle it.

INVITE PUBLIC TO COURT OF HONOR MON.

Scout members of Troop No. 7, Boy Scouts of America, in Arlington Heights will hold open house at a Public Court of Honor Monday evening, Nov. 26, at 8 p. m. in the high school gymnasium.

All are invited to attend, there will be no admission charge and there will be something doing every minute of the time.

With possibly some slight changes the program will be as follows: (Starting promptly at 8 p. m.) Opening Exercises... Entire Troop Color Squad Drill... Flying Eagle Patrol "Indian Life"... Beaver Patrol "The Dagger"... Black Hawk Patrol "Pioneer Work"... Peacock Patrol "Be Prepared"... Raccoon Patrol Investiture of Tenderfoot Scouts—Junior and Senior and Troop Officers. Scout Executive Landane.

Music—Troop No. 7 Band and Orchestra. Presentation of Awards... Mr. Landane Indian Legends and Dances... Chief Little Moose of the Chippewa Tribe.

Closing Exercises... Troop, Guests. Be sure that you are numbered among the "guests" as your presence will aid in making this occasion one to be remembered and one of the best of its kind.

Show some "Scout Spirit." A Troop Board of Review was held last Saturday in the basement of the Lutheran school.

Over a period of eight hours twenty-eight Scouts were reviewed on advancement and Merit Badge work which shows a very commendable spirit on their part.

The advancement and Merit Badge awards will be made at the public court of honor, Monday night, Nov. 26, topping off one of the finest examples of scout effort ever seen in our village.

And now it's the parents time to sit up and take notice.

Not long ago in conversation with a scoutmaster, one of the troop officers told her that her scout was not living up to the oath and law in his attitude toward troop and patrol meetings and advancement.

The reply was "I thought that he was going along fine but I know that he didn't attend all meetings and I didn't know that there was such things as patrol meetings." Parents, as one of the scoutmaster said, "Don't you think that it's about time we find out something more personal interest and cease taking so much for granted?"

Troop meetings are open to parents and friends. Scout activities invite inspection and questions are gladly answered along scouting lines.

Come with your scout, meet the officers and other troop members, catch hold of some of that "scout spirit" and go along with us to bigger and better scouting.

There is a group of earnest workers aiding the scouts and if you have a scout in Troop No. 7 you should join that group in its activities. The Parents Auxiliary, if you please, is a hard working, enthusiastic backer of real scouting. Meet with them and learn what your boy and my boy needs in a program entirely devoted to his benefit. Then, if you don't develop into a real plugger for the Boy Scouts of America I'll miss my guess.

At any rate you'll know more of what Scouting is doing for boyhood in its advance on manhood and the real problems of life.

Arlington Recreation
Alleys Hold Record
High Scoring League

Arlington Heights Recreational alleys claim to have the highest scoring league of any alley north-west of Chicago. In the Monday night league of 36 men, there are only four men whose average is less than 170. Thirteen of them have averages that are above 180. The teams are so evenly matched that there is only one game separating each of the teams. Metz cab boys are high this week have won 18 games and lost 12, while Arlington Candy, the tail enders have won 12 and lost 18. The other teams are in one, two three order, between these figures.

The holders of the high scores during the thirty games that have been played up to the present time are: Darwalt 265, Munnerl 245, Dieball 244. The team averages during that period tell relatively the same story as follows: Metz Cab 900, Steinke 896, Edelweiss 891, Kehe Motor 889, Kitty Korner 885, Arlington Candy 875. Three individuals have averages of 183 and the lowest average is 164.

The men bowlers are not making all of the honors. Melville Kollege rolled 214 this week. The boys have given games of 2-0 and 1-0. The girls appear to get a greater thrill out of bowling than the men.

The records of the alleys are two 300 games, one 297 game and one 290 game. This week, Walter Witt one of the Palatine crack bowlers left his Palatine team mates to become permanently a member of the Kehe Motor team.

A Continued Story of Scoutcraft.

James E. West was born at the Columbia hospital for women Washington, D. C., on May 16, 1876. He knew little about his parents. His mother, Mary F. In spite of the prominent position he has won, James West, since his parents' death, has never known a single relative in all the world. His mother left him no names or other means of getting in touch with his uncles or aunts or cousins on either side; he has never been sure that there were any. During his

Council Wide Court Of Honor To Be Held Dec. 12, DesPlaines
After 15 years of active service in boys work both in Des Plaines and other communities, Judge Forberg present chairman of the N. W. Suburban Council Court of Honor, is leaving the local council to take up larger duties in the region. This region comprises Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin and Illinois. Judge Forberg states that the Court of Honor on the 12th of Dec., will be his last in the Council in which he will participate and asks the cooperation of every community in our council to make this a Court never to be forgotten and the largest we have ever held. Every scout in the council is urged to make an effort in Scout Advancement in order that he may prepare himself for the next rank and be present at the Court or receive his advanced certificate. Each and every troop is requested to make a special effort to boost its membership and this can best be done by a splendid scout advancement which automatically advertises our program through the boy and results in increased membership.

A splendid program will be put on this particular night and the public will be invited and urged to attend. Let us us finish the old year in good shape, so that we have a running start for the new year.
The executive will present a scout statuette to the troop having the highest percentage of their troop present.
Let us give Judge Forberg a good send-off.

Shows Speed of Airplane
The instrument used to indicate the air speed of an airplane is commonly called a "pitot tube." The air passes through this tube across an opening in one side and in so doing builds up air pressure on one side of the diaphragm and creates a vacuum in the other. This uneven force operates a pointer on a dial and indicates the air speed.

No. 4 of a Series on 'Metropolitan Chicago

—showing why Metropolitan Chicago has every possibility of becoming the world's foremost metropolitan center—in population as well as in trade importance—and that in a day relatively near. Leading authorities predict fifteen million population for Metropolitan Chicago within a lifetime.

YOUR 800 POUNDS OF STEEL COME LARGELY FROM METROPOLITAN CHICAGO

MORE than 800 pounds of steel per person per year is used in the United States. Steel is the very basis of our present-day civilization—the backbone of modern industry. It forms anywhere from a part to the whole of nearly every manufactured product. It makes possible the modern machines used in both industry and agriculture.

Steel holds first position among all industries in Metropolitan Chicago. Metropolitan Chicago produces more steel than all of England, and more than one-half as much as all of Germany in which is located the Ruhr Valley with its immense steel plants!

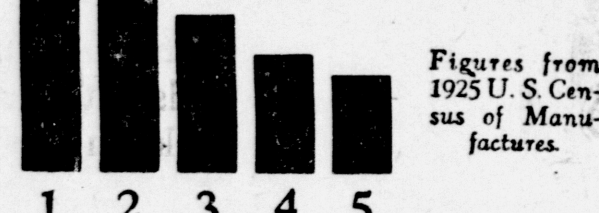

Eighty-four per cent of the iron ore of this country comes from the Lake Superior region. By lake boat it is delivered to Metropolitan Chicago more economically than to any other point of advantageous distribution in the country.

Being located close to the nation's geographic centers of industry and population, the steel mills of Metropolitan Chicago find a vast immediate market for their output, a market that is growing continually. It is predicted that Metropolitan Chicago will some day lead the world in steel production.

The chief significance of steel to Metropolitan Chicago is not its position at the head of our industries, but its effect upon our industrial progress as a whole. For steel attracts other industry.

Nearness to an advantageous source of steel supply is a factor of importance to manufacturers, especially when the many other basic advantages offered by Metropolitan Chicago are also considered.

And so it is that steel is one of several factors which are definitely contributing to the present greatness and future advancement of this youngest large metropolitan center.

Still On At Norshore

The College Frolics which have been offered for the past year at the Norshore, will be a permanent Friday night feature at that theater, according to Mr. Charles Burris, manager. The Northwestern students have flocked to this deluxe house every Friday evening to see their favorite fraternity on the stage. Not only does the stage show have a college atmosphere, but the whole program is carried out with Northwestern spirit dominating. College songs are played by Chauncey Haines at the organ, and the patrons are given a chance to sing their favorite university tunes.

WHEELING DEPARTMENT

The triangle garage is now being operated by a Mr. Gross of Chicago, who has rented the same from the owner.

The Jos. Sieg family has moved into the residence formerly occupied by the Weinstock's. Mr. John Meyer and family of Elmhurst, visited here on Sunday. Miss Hazel Uptadel entertained her Sunday school class and their friends at her home on Wednesday evening.

See the notice of the Christmas sale under the church notes. Miss Edna Popp of Long Grove is employed at the E. J. Welflin home.

The J. F. Frye construction company is at work extending the water mains in the Mors subdivision. A large audience was present at the P. T. A. meeting on Monday evening. At that time a representative of the Bowman Dairy, gave a lecture on the values of milk as a food, which was supplemented by several movie reels showing the operations of the various plants of the company.

The annual public meeting of the achievement club of the Wheeling school will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. You are invited to be present and show your interest in work of the school. A special program has been prepared and refreshments will be for sale.

Mr. Sam Warnecke has been away on several duck hunts on the Illinois river near Beardstown recently. Each time his party has returned having bagged the maximum of game. Many of his friends have been treated to duck dinners. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Uptadel were pleasantly surprised on Tuesday evening, when a group of their friends walked in on them for a "house-warming." Games and refreshments were provided by the self-invited guests and most pleasant evening was experienced by all. A camp fire picture, done in pastel by Chandler, was presented to the young couple by the group.

The following program has been prepared for the achievement meeting, the "Healthland" Cantata, by the entire school. Mr. Ole Olson from WLS will give character portrayals in Swedish dialect. Francis McBride, a chalk artist, will entertain with drawings. My Byrd, country life director, will be present. Program is free.

Commercial Club Dinner Great Success

The first annual dinner dance given by the Wheeling Commercial Club for its members and friends at the Union Hotel last Wednesday evening, proved a most successful and delightful social function. Mr. Chas. Balling, Sr., and Mr. J. E. Barrett, were on the receiving committee and gave the guests a hearty welcome. At about 7:30 o'clock, the 85 guests sat down to prettily decorated and sumptuously laden tables. A four course chicken dinner was served. With the Lyric quartet of WLS, present as entertainers, not a moment lagged, and a spirit of merriment reigned throughout the evening. After the dinner the tables were removed to clear the floor for dancing. The value of such an organization in a community was very evident in the congeniality of the guests who represented a large portion of the community residents, and community interests. It is hoped that the organization may prosper in number and spirit during the coming year.

Varsity Talking College Film To Show In Theatres

The historic campus of Princeton University forms the background for "Varsity," talking picture which will be on view at the Paradise, Tivoli and Uptown screens the coming week.

Unlike most college pictures, "Varsity" is a story with college life as it is. The hero of "Varsity" does not win the crowning athletic event of the year for his alma mater.

The theme of this vehicle is the love of father for son and is carried on by Chester Conklin, the comic but beloved janitor at the university, and Buddy Rogers, who was raised in an institution, and believes that he is an orphan.

The highlights of this production are the talking scenes. The climax to this picture is carried out vocally by the characters.

The stage portion of the bill at the Uptown will present Verne Buck with his orchestra in "Parisian Nights." This offering which is built on a lavish scale depicts the gay life of young art students in gray Paris. A realistic reproduction of famous night life centers is to be seen in this offering.

"Beggars of Life" Comes in Sound To The Norshore

The spot, found during weeks of searching by studio location hunters, served three weeks as the background for some of the most important action of "Beggars of Life," filmed as a special production, which will be seen at the Norshore theater next week.

This "Jungle," whose first occupants were the Paramount players, satisfied all demands. It is in a sheltered miniature, rockbound valley, near a railroad, on the banks of a clear stream, near a town, but just outside its corporate limits, and has shade trees.

Jungles are regular meeting places of tramps, known from one end of the country to the other, where they meet, mend their clothes, and rest a day or two before continuing their ramblings.

PROCEEDINGS OF VILLAGE BOARD

The Village Board held a special meeting Tuesday evening, Nov. 20. William Busse called the meeting to order with all trustees responding present except Trustee Mecklenburg who was kept away from the meeting due to business.

The bid of John Gors on the addition to the Village Hall was accepted and he was awarded the contract. Mr. Gors presented a plan for his new building on Railroad avenue between Wille street and Pine street and asked permission of the board to excavate under the sidewalks for a coal bin, with the request that an opening be left in the sidewalk. This was a topic for some discussion and it was deemed wise by the board to have the Mayor investigate the bond matter covering cases of this kind so that the village would be held blameless in case of an accident.

The board felt that the same principle should apply as is used in the larger cities, namely, that the property owner furnish a surety bond payable to the Village in the event that someone should be hurt by falling into a so-called coal hole.

Engineer Johnstone reported that Ryckoff was making progress on the installation of the Prospect lighting system.

After the regular board meeting the board of local improvements went into session and Milburn Bros. were paid the balance of the money due them on the Maple street and George street paving jobs.

There being nothing further to attend the meetings were adjourned to meet again at the regular meeting, which will be the first Tuesday in December.

Chamber Of Commerce Prepare For Action

The regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held tonight instead of last Wednesday evening as planned. Several interesting items are coming up for discussion and we are looking forward to a full attendance at this meeting. All members in good standing are urged to be present as the Board of Directors have worked out something they want to present that will interest all.

Do your part by attending the meetings and give the officers the support they deserve. President Landeck will conduct his first meeting tonight, so let's all show him a 100 per cent co-operation.

The Chamber is doing things for the business men as well as for every citizen of Mt. Prospect. Help put it over big.

New Fire House For Mt. Prospect

The Village Board at a special meeting held for that purpose awarded the bid for the construction of the new fire house to the fire truck to our local contractor, John H. Gors. Mr. Gors will start work on this building in the near future and will have the entire building ready by the time the new truck arrives.

This is the second addition to a village hall that Mr. Gors has under contract as he is building the addition in Arlington Heights as well as in his home town. John Gors is quite active and is always on the job when it comes to getting out sharp pointed pencil figures so as to secure work for his men.

This is the first addition to be made to our village hall. Let us hope that before another addition is made we will secure a new building a credit to our village with all modern facilities for the board rooms and the other departments of our local government.

Many Pheasants Left After Season Ends

The end of the pheasant season finds more of the birds than usual still at large, according to reports brought in by deputy game warden, H. H. Deverman, and others, who have been out in the fields since the close of the pheasant season. The number of birds, which escaped the army of hunters this year, is no doubt, and to the added protection given them by the posting of many farms and the village limits of Palatine and Arlington Heights.

Hunters who come out from Chicago would do well to become acquainted with just what the various birds look like. Deputy Deverman brought in two violators Sunday, who had bagged some hungarian partridges under the impression that they were shooting quail. The fine which they paid would have paid for a course of education as to what the different birds really look like. Mr. Deverman hopes to further increase the pheasant population by securing a couple of crates of the birds to "plant" in the forest preserves. Some were "planted" there last summer.

Trappers also report that fur bearing animals are more plentiful than usual this year, and more trappers are in the field.

Bill Heims, veteran trapper of the Palatine marshes, has already captured about a hundred muskrats, making a bag of nineteen in one night. Bill reports that the water the last week was very high and that he had a great battle to get to his traps without going in up to his neck. One of Bill's pet peeves is that many of his traps and some of his catches are being stolen.

After working hard to set traps and capture the game, it's enough to make anyone swear to find that some two footed animal of an odorous nature has rifled the traps.

Apparently the call of the wild is as urgent upon the youth of today as it ever was for an unusual large number of youngsters are, with the consent of their parents, tramping the woods and fields in search of game, or following the trap line with all the eagerness and excitement of the great hunters and trappers of other days.

North Shore Installs New Safety Gate

A new type of automatic electrically-operated safety gate, which has proved highly successful in practical tests at three locations on the Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee Railroad (North Shore Line), will be installed at 26 additional grade crossings on the "Road of Service" between Niles Center, Ill., and Racine, Wis., it is announced by John R. Blackhall, General Manager.

The following cities on the Shore Line Route will receive this additional crossing protection: Lake Bluff, North Sheridan, North Chicago, Waukegan, Zion, Kenosha and Racine. In addition the following crossings on the Skokie Valley Route will be equipped with the automatic gates: Main street, Niles Center Road, Glenview Road, Willow Road, Dundee Road, Deerfield Road and Deerpath Avenue.

"These automatic safety gates furnish as nearly perfect crossing protection as human ingenuity has yet made possible," said Mr. Blackhall in announcing this move to increase the safety of North Shore Line grade crossings. "The approaching train itself operates the gates by closing an electric track circuit, which is arranged so that warning is given by both bells and lights at least 35 seconds ahead of a train at the highest speed operated. In our practical tests the circuit was completed by approaching trains when 2,200 feet from the crossings.

Commissioner Busse Returns From West Baden, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. William Busse returned Monday evening from a ten day sojourn at West Baden. He appears much refreshed and none the worse for the recent campaign. He found many county and municipal duties awaiting his attention. His fellow citizens were glad to welcome him back. The progress that Mt. Prospect has made in the past is due to the cooperative spirit that has existed between the people of Mt. Prospect and our mayor, William Busse. Continuation of the same spirit will mean still greater strides in the future.

ARLINGTON HONORS ITS WINNING TEAM

The greatest athletic gathering in the history of the Arlington Heights high school to do honor to the greatest football team in the school's history was the story of the football banquet tendered the team at the high school Tuesday night. Nearly one hundred and fifty pupils, guests, board members and teachers turned out to honor the victorious 1928 team, a team which finished second in the Northwest high school conference and turned in the best record of any Arlington football team.

The big auditorium of the school was transformed for the evening into a huge banquet hall and the long tables were tastefully decorated with flowers and tall candles, which furnished a pretty holiday setting for the occasion. Supt. Brown acting as toastmaster delivered the address of welcome and in this welcome he departed from the usual set speech and welcomed each group individually as well as the entire gathering collectively. He told the team, the scrubs, the pupils, the board members, the coaches, the ladies and the press just how welcome they were and his happy and pertinent comparisons were timely and well received.

The entire throng did complete justice to the splendid banquet which was served by some of the girls of the high school assisted and directed by the lady teachers of the institution. After the ample repast had helped to get everyone acquainted and in good humor the toasts were given as called for by the toastmaster. First came the toast to the team which was given in a few well chosen words by Dorothy Kopplin. Capt. Steve Brodman responded for the team and thanked the assemblage for the honors shown the team and the support accorded it during the season just closed.

Mildred Brockmeyer gave an appropriate toast to the hard working and long suffering scrubs and her toast was responded to in an appreciative manner by Howard Prosser, a member of the scrub squad.

Herbert Weinrich gave a toast to the coaches in which he took a look into the future and gave a reading from page 9993 or something of a future "Who's Who." In this glimpse of the far beyond he depicted Coach Grose as turning out championship teams at Arlington.

diana and Coach Cressey as answering the pleading of Chicago and devoting his talents toward the building of a winning team at that institution. Coach Grose in his response told of his appreciation for the loyalty and the spirit shown by the boys in their willingness to work and learn and in their determination to have a winning team. He thanked the public for its support of the team and closed with a promise of bleachers from which to see future games and a better field on which to play.

Coach Cressey in his half of the response to the toast to the coaches told some of the things which football teaches and what those teachings mean in after life. He told the boys that in after years after many social occasions had been forgotten they would still remember incidents of this game or that game or some incident of the dressing room. He pointed out that the play, the sweat and the mud of the football field was a great thing to teach loyalty, purpose, good fellowship and team work.

T. C. Hart, sport writer, of the Cook County Herald spoke a few words of appreciation of the spirit of team work and cooperation on the squad, team work on the team, between the coaches and between coaches and team.

Toastmaster Brown then commented upon the freedom from injuries during the past season saying that with a few minor exceptions the team had come through with little damage. But, Mr. Brown said, there had been one casualty, he couldn't understand how it happened nor how a cheer leader could get himself so twisted up as to break an arm but the fact remained that Clarence McKaig the Arlington cheer leader had sustained such an injury and in proof of the fact he introduced the peppy Mr. McKaig, who proceeded to read an original football poem which was so good that it went over with the audience like a drop kick from the 30 yard line.

In closing Mr. Brown again paid tribute to the hard work of the ladies and girls who were serving the banquet and making possible that fine evening for the team and just to show those workers that they were appreciated cheerleader McKaig with his one whole arm working like a piston got out on the floor and lead the crowd in a loud and enthusiastic "Yea Rah Cooks!" yell.

This closed the formal part of the evening's entertainment, the chairs and tables were quickly disposed of, an orchestra struck up enticing strains and the gathering finished the evening with dancing. It was a great occasion for the Arlington school and the honored team. The various speakers paid high compliment to the team and the spirit of football. The scrubs were not forgotten either and came in for their just share of praise for the work they had done in helping to build a team.

Football is a comparatively new sport at Arlington. Football dinners are also an innovation but with the winning team of 1928 and the spirit of the 1928 football dinner to look back to it's a safe bet that those dinners will become an annual fixture and that Arlington will continue to honor its teams in victory and defeat.

"Five O'Clock Girl" At Woods Theatre

Chicago has quite taken "The Five O'Clock Girl" into its heart as she begins the fifth week of her engagement at Woods Theatre tomorrow night with flying colors.

A picture of blonde loveliness is Mary Eaton who dances and sings her way through "The Five O'Clock Girl" as the modern Cinderella who forgets her duties in a cleaner's shop every afternoon at the strike of five, to telephone her Prince Charming who is totally in the dark as to her identity. The object of her affection is Oscar Shaw whose engaging masculine deportment and abundant sense of light-comedy acting are his assets and he cashes in on them to their full value.

Never has there been a more engaging dumbbell than little Susie of the cleaner's shop as portrayed by Pert Kelton. Her quaint comedy in the ritzy night club generates wholehearted laughter and when she burlesques a Spanish dance the audience fairly whoops.

Jack Norton has the role of the Valet and he makes of it one continuous laugh winner. Mr. Norton is the only principal of "The Five O'Clock Girl" who did not appear in the production on Broadway. There the valet role was taken by John Louis Bartels and it is to be doubted whether Mr. Bartels was at all merrier.

The team of Shaw and Lee is very much to the fore in this rollicking musical play with their joint dances and immobile features. An auditor at last Saturday's matinee was heard to remark that he would sometime like to sit through an entire program composing the droleries of Al and Sam. Danny Dare does much nimble dancing and to aid him is a large ensemble of dashing and delectable damsels and an unusual compliment of chorus men.

The tunes of "The Five O'Clock Girl" are many and catchy, among them being "Up in the Clouds," "Thinking of You" and "Happy Go Lucky."

A special matinee will be given on Thanksgiving day, with the usual Saturday matinee following. The Thanksgiving matinee will be offered at popular prices.

Undecided

Joseph, age four, was petulant one day, much to the exasperation of his mother. At last, when there was nothing else to complain of, he held up his foot, saying "sumpin'" was in the shoe. His mother unlaced it, but could find nothing to cause the pain, whereupon Joseph countered with: "Maybe it's in the other."

Dickens Still Favorite

A world-wide canvass conducted by a British publishing house to ascertain "your favorite author" resulted in an overwhelming vote for Charles Dickens. Then followed Scott, Stevenson, Dumas and Thackeray.

What's a Ha-Ha?

Webster's definition of a ha-ha is a sunk fence, wall or ditch not visible till one is close upon it. The brick ha-ha walls at Mount Vernon were so called because they were not visible from the house, being built on a terrace. They inclosed the field where the cattle grazed.

Spirit "Fake"

Primitive natives in Sumatra believe that the spirit of a dead tribesman returns a few months after death for one last night of celebration with his friends, and magicians help along the belief by manipulating a wooden dummy on strings in the semidarkness.

BASKETBALL

Basketball, Yea! The grammar school is going to have a basketball team for the first time in its history.

When our coach, Mr. Gustafson, announced the news, we could not wait until we could practice.

There are twenty-eight going out for basketball and there are twenty-five suits ordered.

The boys cannot wait till their suits arrive. They are nifty Maroon and white suits, the trunks and shirts are maroon trimmed with white. The shirt has a large red letter "P" with a white background. The boys have a difficult time in getting some of the passes, especially the hook pass. Most of them haven't control of the ball. Our coach says it is an accident when the ball gets over to the other boy. Other hard ones are the criss cross, overhead pass and the side pass. The best of all the boys like to take a shower after a little scrimmage to refresh them.

Howard Krambler

OUR MIXED CHORUS

We have planned to practice twice a week which is Mondays and Fridays.

We have not been practicing in the past week, because we have been waiting for two part music, which we just received, we got it from Lyon & Healy.

We practiced last night for the first time for about a week. We practiced Thanksgiving songs.

Grace Eleanor Miner

OUR ART FIBRE CLASS

A number of articles of furniture which we have done, are ready for exhibit and we are now beginning on larger projects. We are getting together old magazines and are going to sell them. This money will help us to better our shop with tools and other conveniences. We have all ready, shelves lining the wall in which we keep our Art Fibre furniture and tools.

We will be glad to have visitors visit our classes as it is very interesting watching us.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Nov. 17, 1928, 11:30 to 12 o'clock. The boys of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades were given a talk Friday by Mr. Gustafson, the subject matter being taken from an article on "How To Make Friends and Keep Them," by Edgar Guest.

The talk was about conduct, politeness, habits, behavior in school and home life.

We were very much interested in this talk as we will use these points in later life.

This was really a heart to heart talk and is helping the boys very much.

Alfred Regenburg

OUR SEVENTH GRADE SEWING CLASS

The seventh grade sewing class is now making kitchen aprons. Some of them have gotten as far as basting the rick-rack on and others are just basting the hems. We all like to sew and are progressing nicely.

Isabel Wentz

EIGHTH GRADE SEWING

We eighth grade sewing girls are glad to say that we are doing very well under Mrs. Wilson's instruction. Nearly all of us have started to sew the finishing touches on our aprons. All of us except one girl, are using lace for the trimming. The one girl, who is doing differently, is using white organdy ruffles. We hope the aprons will be finished soon and that they will turn out to be even more than we have expected.

Dorothy Duncan

GRADE 1

The first grade pupils are greatly interested in Pilgrim stories, which they are studying and have studied for the past week.

They are making turkeys. Some are making mother turkeys and others are making father turkeys.

The little tots are still working on their color books called, "My Color Book," and hope to finish them soon.

They are not satisfied with making the drawings for Thanksgiving, but are also learning Thanksgiving songs.

Grade 2

The second grade class is divided into two classes in reading. One is "The Flower Class," the best readers are in this class. The other is "The Bud Class," this is the second class.

"The Flower Class," will finish reading the Elson Reader, Book 1, and begin reading the favorite Second Grade Book, "In Animal Land." The class was very much interested in "Pilgrim Stories." The Pilgrims are in Holland preparing for their journey to America. The pupils cannot wait until they hear more about them.

They have made thirty large turkeys in Art class.

Grade 3

The third grade certainly have the spirit of Thanksgiving in them. They have their room decorated with Puritan maids and turkeys are pasted on the windows, which makes the room very attractive. They are also making Thanksgiving booklets which are to illustrate the first Thanksgiving.

LeRoy Skibbe made a grade of 100 per cent in a pretest in spelling this week Monday, and will not have to take spelling for the rest of the week.

Grade 4

The fourth grade pupils dressed clothespins as Pilgrims for the first grade sand tables.

They have enjoyed the "Children's Book of Thanksgiving Stories," from the library.

The pupils of fourth grade had the pleasure of listening to Arthur North read the story to them of "A Loaf of Bread" for their geography Monday.

This grade would like to have copies of the geographical magazine for their reading table. If you have any copies to donate please send them to room 4 or call Mrs. Fosket and she will send for them.

Grade 5

The fifth grade has completed a poster, "Sunset in Egypt," using the complimentary color scheme, which they have been studying.

They are using perspective in their drawings.

They have finished reading the story of "Heidi," and are now enjoying the story of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," very much.

Grade 6

The sixth grade pupils are still working on their reading note books.

Kathryn Hans made a grade of 100 per cent in a pretest in spelling this week and does not have to take spelling for the rest of the week.

Frank Frohne has read 12 books since school has started this year. He has read the most of any sixth grader so far.

Grade 7

There are many good spellers in seventh grade. They were given an 80 word test Monday morning, consisting of words which they have had since the month of September until now. Those who received a grade of 100 per cent are Fred Hansknecht, Elsa Mess and Isabel Wentz. Those who made 100 per cent in the pretest in spelling this week are, Russel Godknecht, Fred Hansknecht, Dorothy Meyer, Henrietta Meyers, Elinore Oltendorf, Robert Paddock, Mary Pauscek, Henry Peterson, Mary Ann Samson, Helen Schoppe, Irene Schram, Isabel Wentz, Dorothy Sherman and Everette Weseman.

Russel Godknecht read 18 books since the month of September until now.

Grade 8

Active interest has been taken in the reading of library books among the pupils of the upper grades. Dorothy Duncan has read 23 books from the month of September until now. She has read the most so far.

We had a silent reading test this week. Many of them were below the average rate of speed and some of us were average and above average. We will have another test like it in the month of June, to see how much we have improved.

Emma Tins, an eighth grader, made a grade of 100 per cent in a pretest in spelling this week Monday and will not have to take spelling for the rest of the week.

A Continued Story of Scoutcraft.

James E. West was born at the Columbia hospital for women Washington, D. C., on May 16, 1876. He knew little about his parents. His mother, Mary F. In spite of the prominent position he has won, James West, since his parents' death, has never known a single relative in all the world. # INVITE PUBLIC TO COURT OF HONOR MON.

Scout members of Troop No. 7, Boy Scouts of America, in Arlington Heights will hold open house at a Public Court of Honor Monday evening, Nov. 26, at 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

All are invited to attend, there will be no admission charge and there will be something doing every minute of the time.

With possibly some slight changes the program will be as follows: (Starting promptly at 8 p.m.) Opening Exercises... Entire Troop Color Squad drill... Flying Eagle Patrol "Indian Life"... Beaver Patrol "The Dagger"... Black Hawk Patrol "Pioneer Work"... Peacock Patrol "Be Prepared"... Raccoon Patrol Investiture of Tenderfoot Scouts—Junior and Senior and Troop Officers. Scout Executive Landane.

Music—Troop No. 7 Band and Orchestra.

Presentation of Awards... Mr. Landane Indian Legends and Dances... Chief Little Moose of the Chipewa Tribe.

Closing Exercises... Troop, Guests Be sure that you are numbered among the "guests" as your presence will aid in making this occasion one to be remembered and one of the best of its kind.

Show some "Scout Spirit."

A troop Board of Review was held last Saturday in the basement of the Lutheran school.

Over a period of eight hours twenty-eight Scouts were reviewed on advancement and Merit Badge work which shows a very commendable spirit on their part.

The advancement and Merit Badge awards will be made at the public court of honor, Monday night, Nov. 26, topping off one of the finest examples of scout effort ever seen in our village.

And now it's the parents time to sit up and take notice.

Not long ago in conversation with a scout's mother one of the troop officers told her that her scout was not living up to the oath and law in his attitude toward troop and patrol meetings and advancement.

The reply was "I thought that he was going along fine but I know that he didn't attend all meetings and I didn't know that there was such things as patrol meetings."

Parents, as one of you, I'm asking "Don't you think that it's about time we find out something by more personal interest and cease taking so much for granted?"

Troop meetings are open to parents and friends. Scout activities invite inspection and questions are gladly answered along scouting lines.

Come with your scout, meet the officers and other troop members, catch hold of some of that "scout spirit" and go along with us to bigger and better scouting.

There is a group of earnest workers aiding the scouts and if you have a scout in Troop No. 7 you should join that group in its activities. The Parents Auxiliary, if you please, is a hard working, enthusiastic bunch of real scouting. Meet with them and learn what your boy and my boys needs in a program entirely devoted to his benefit. Then, if you don't develop into a real plugger for the Boy Scouts of America I'll miss my guess.

At any rate you'll know more of what Scouting is doing for boyhood in its advance on manhood and the real problems of life.

bunch say a game is better than gossip. Generous refreshments of just the right sort were provided by the hospitable hostess. Outside the wind ranted and raved, but the cheery hostess made hearts warm with her merry laughter. It was a party such as the guests enjoyed.

Saturday evening, Nov. 17, Mrs. Adam Lukhaub was most completely and happily surprised in her home, corner Vail and Wing streets. Her birthday was not exactly on that date, but is the custom among her people to celebrate birthdays on the date of the Saint, whose name they bear. Mrs. Lukhaub's name is Elizabeth, and St. Elizabeth's day is November 17. Hence the party in her honor. The happy smiling hostess, too surprised for words, received a beautiful set of dishes. The guests came provided with hampers of good things for refreshments. Guests were from Arlington Heights. Mr. and Mrs. Stoppel, Mr. and Mrs. Martine and daughter, Miss Susie, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Heckmiller, Mr. and Mrs. Bauer, Mr. and Mrs. Scherick and daughter, Eva, and her husband, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jost from Chicago.

Village Collector Preparing Big Xmas Gifts For Tax Payers

E. H. Boltet, village collector of Arlington Heights admits that he is a man without a heart, for who else would place in the mails several thousand special assessment bills ten days before Christmas. The local banks will attempt to soften the blow by mailing a few days earlier the Christmas savings checks, but there are a whole lot of homes that will be receiving the special assessment bills but no checks from Christmas savings funds.

E. H. Bolte has a Santa Claus smile on, anyway. His work is much easier this year because he does not have to stop the job of fitting shoes and he has a commodious office that speeds up the work.

There are 75 special assessments that are in process of collection. The oldest one that is now being collected is No. 21 which was levied in 1923 and upon which the sixth installment is now being collected. The last special assessment is No. 96. Mr. Bolte is sending out a new form of bill this year that not alone specifies the amount that is due at the present time, but also how much has previously been paid and how much remains to be paid.

Mr. Bolte is of the opinion that such a bill will save him writing several hundred letters to new property owners and answering a thousand questions of those who call at the office.

The Womens Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church will meet with Mrs. Chas. McElhose, N. Dunton Ave., Monday, Nov. 26, at 2:30 o'clock. We look for a large attendance.

Annual Red Cross Call Continues Until Thanksgiving Day

With the Red Cross Twelfth Annual Roll Call still under way, to continue until Thanksgiving Day, an appeal for more memberships was broadcast by Mrs. Beardsley, chairman in this district.

"The response the first week of the campaign, which started Armistice Day," she said, "was good, but we must do even better during the remaining time of our campaign. Great as has been the response, we are still a long way from the goal we have set for this year. We need the help of every citizen of this district."

Arlington Heights Oldest Resident Talks About Olden Days

Joe Hinz, 80 years old, who came to Arlington Heights 78 years ago, thinks that he is the oldest resident in the village. However, the Herald will be glad to receive any information that any others may have in that regard. Mr. Hinz is very spry for his age and has an excellent memory. It was in the office of Wayman & Wayman where the editor of the Herald found him Wednesday afternoon, talking over old times with Mr. Wayman, of whom he was a neighbor many years.

Joe came to Arlington Heights from Germany, with his parents when only two years old and has lived here ever since, except a few years that he spent traveling about the country learning the mason trade. Mr. Hinz, when he was a young man, believed that he could acquire efficiency in his trade to a greater degree if he worked at his trade in all parts of the country. This he did and claims to have worked on construction in almost every large city except New York. He still believes that the young man of today should not stick too close to home. He thinks a little traveling will not hurt a boy and will serve to round out his education.

Republican All His Life

Mr. Hinz has been a Republican all of his life and has never voted other than a straight ticket at the National elections, since the election of U. S. Grant to the presidency. Recalling his work at the trade in Arlington Heights, Mr. Hinz says that he built the foundation of the Dr. Gunn residence and there are 75,000 brick underneath that building. The best investment that he ever made, says Mr. Hinz, was the time that he bought, of Jim Dunton, the property he owns on Hawthorn street. James Dunton was indebted to him $100 for balance due on a building. Mr. Dunton offered a lot to cancel the indebtedness. The two went to Hawthorn street, paced off 102 steps, put in a stake and the deal was completed. The largest salary that Mr. Hinz ever received was $3.50 per day and he says that he managed to save money on that pay.

The parting remark that Mr. Hinz made to the editor as he left him was, "I have chewed and smoked tobacco since I was 13 years old and I expect to live many more years." Mr. Hinz at present makes his home with his son upon his farm.

Third Village Well Drillers Down To Rock At 161 Feet

Completion of the village well upon the water tower site has been delayed owing to a break in tools, and after several days "fishing" the broken part was recovered and the work will be rushed to completion. The well is down to 161 feet with a probable of 40 feet more to go. Indications of the test well are that a good flow of water will be obtained.

Well Drilling Takes Patience

The life of a well driller is not a bed of roses and it takes a lot of patience some times to secure water, especially when tools break in the hole. Wayman & Wayman are down to 700 feet in a well for the Sisters of Nazareth on River road. A well at the cement works at Des Plaines is down 400 feet. Levi says it may take patience, but it is a lot of satisfaction when success is finally obtained.

Saturday Will Be Moving Day For New Blase Bldg. Tenants

Four of the flats in the new Blase building upon the Northwest Highway will be occupied by their new tenants Saturday night. Four other flats have also been rented. Among them are two new comers to the village, J. C. Zufft, assistant engineer of Consoer, Older & Quinlan, is one of the new residents, although he is more or less acquainted with Arlington Heights having been engaged in engineering work for his firm. The other new resident is F. R. Petterson, who is employed by the Arlington Seating Co., who will move in later. Clyde C. Young, of Chas. P. Gray Co., Carl Miltzer, who was recently married and the Misses Tonne are among those who will call this place home after Saturday. Chas. Wangen has rented one flat, also Gustaf Ladis, who is opening a restaurant in the building. There remain four flats unrented.

Ocean's Prey Remembered

England's lost village, Eccles, that now lies beneath the waves off North Walsham, Norfolk, was commemorated a short time ago by a service which was held on the lonely foreshore at North Walsham by a surprised clergyman and a little congregation of villagers and holiday makers. Encroachment of the sea submerged the town and church many years ago.
